How to automatically determine the screens resolution in the Android app I'm newbie in Android app development, and I've reached the next situation. I have a Nexus tablet, and I've tried to develop an app with WXGA (1280x800px) screen. When I run my app on the tablet, it looks a little bit messy. In fact, the design & layout is created in 800x600px, and when I click and run on my tablet, it is resized in the resolution I selected in the new intent, not the actual resolution of the tablet. I'm using Eclipse, and I have Android SDK installed. I would like to know if there is a way to automatically determine the highest resolution to use the app, so when I click and run on the app, it is run not at WXGA (1280x800), but at
