Hello,

Some frustrations with the game. I have been playing for about three months and I am mixed about the game. It appears at times some are "cheating" but now the more I ask questions during the time waiting for a battle to start in the chat box I am learning a small bit at a time. There is little to explain how player seem to make impossible shots time after time; I do not understand how they are doing this. Forexample, using a 1 minute smoke seems to make little difference. I am some how still in view of the "enemy" team and sunk. I am unable to see past the smoke but they seem to be unaffected.

So, I have frustrations but all and all it appears that a lot of attention and effort was put into the game which causes me to give a positive review.

thank you,
